We have two new members of the City's sustainability team joining us tonight.

I will briefly introduce them and open up the Q&A.

This is an informal meeting for us to get to know them, and them to get to know us. With this recent expansion of the Sustainability office, a top priority is figuring out how we are all going to work together. We want them to feel like they can reach out to us, put faces with the names etc.

The first is Mia Kania. Mia's title is Sustainability Planner

Mia (MEE-uh) Kania (KANE-yuh)

This newly created role focuses on increasing the planning department's capacity to carry out the Climate and Energy Plan.

This work will include expanding outreach and education programs and developing sustainable zoning measures.

Welcome Mia!

The next is FANG SHUEI JEUNG. Fangxue's title is Energy Advocate

This new job focuses on the outreach and education of the Mass Save programs. Fang Shuei be working closely with the community to promote the Mass Save incentive programs, as well as collecting feedback on energy efficiency programs in Watertown.
